

Woolworths Agricultural Business Scholarship 2015

Woolworths is offering 25 young people the opportunity to attend the Woolworths Agricultural Business Scholarship program.

Learn from the best

During the 12-day course, you'll gain a broad perspective on the business of agriculture from key Woolworths business leaders and other industry experts. You'll also learn from some of the country's leading experts in business management and gain a deeper understanding of how the retail business works.

How will I benefit?

The course has been specifically designed to be practical as well as theoretical, providing you with the chance to apply best practice ideas to your own real life experiences. The program will give you valuable insights into key issues and opportunities in this sector, as well as give you the opportunity to share your experience with your peers.

"The focus on personal and professional development, and having the opportunity to meet and network with Woolworths executives, as well as leaders of the industry across organisations such as Landcare, the RAS, and Nuffield, was a wonderful opportunity."

Airlie Trescowthick,
Holbrook, NSW

Charles O'Brien,
Crookwell, NSW

"As a beef producer it was a great opportunity to experience some of the more complex aspects of a big business like Woolworths, and to see how they manage their dealings within agriculture. I'd recommend it to anyone involved in agriculture, because it provides a real opportunity to see the supply chain from a different perspective which can be really useful in helping you improve your own business and career."

"Learning about the differences and similarities between New Zealand and Australian production systems from people on the ground who all had different and interesting views on the future of farming was useful and rewarding."
